NEW ANTHEMS

MUSIC IN THE MORNING

Joseph M. Martin

Uses: Thanksgiving, General, All Saints

Scriptures: Psalm 57:7-8; Psalm 108:1-3; Zephaniah 3:17

The spirit of early American hymnody breathes in this newly composed tune and arrangement. Rustic joy abounds as the vigorous octavo dances into your heart with the promises of heaven and everlasting life. The mostly pentatonic melody toggles between major and minor modes, creating a powerful acclamation of praise and thanksgiving. The optional orchestration adds a theatrical sweep to the anthem, hinting at recognizable Americana timbres and textures. Unforgettable!

NOT ONE FALLS

Heather Sorenson

Uses: General

Scriptures: Jeremiah 29:11; I Peter 5:10; Colossians 1:27

Speaking timeless truths to troubled times, this new sacred song envelops the listener in the promise of security and hope. An impressive ballad-styled melody and accompaniment are only the beginning with this piece. Shimmering chords punctuate the solo writing and add a level of beauty rarely seen in this style. The challenge to embrace a hopeful world and work together to bring about the peaceable kingdom is a challenge that every church needs to hear. Ministry and artistry!

PRAISE THE LORD, ALL NATIONS!

Isaac Watts/Lloyd Larson

Uses: General

Scriptures: Psalm 100; Psalm 117

For a festival gathering of singers, this would be an amazing choice. After a neoclassic introduction, the main theme sounds with sacred vigor. Pure energy carries the sequential tune through a series of praiseworthy acclamations, "O praise the Lord, all nations. Praise the Lord, all people." A contrasting middle section featuring "Tallis' Canon" is a delightful surprise, bringing texture and a noble quality to crown this fine work. Joyful!

MORE PRECIOUS THAN SILVER with "I'd Rather Have Jesus"

Lynn DeShazo/George Beverly Shea/arr. Stacey Nordmeyer

Daybreak Music

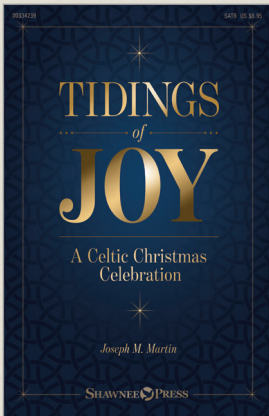

Uses: Lent, Commitment, Stewardship, General

Scriptures: I Chronicles 29:12; Proverbs 21:20; Colossians 3:23-24

There is a winsome gentleness in this creative musical pairing. From the first bell-like piano patterns to the final cloistered unisons, this arrangement offers us rare access to the heart of two enduring sacred songs. The theme of stewardship is strong in both of these worship evergreens. Showcasing this thematic unity with tasteful techniques, the artful arrangement enhances the success of the choir and maintains the integrity of the core message. Useful and beautiful!

AN ADVENT PROCLAMATION

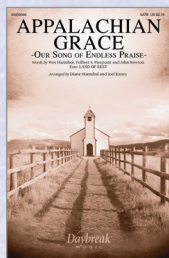

R.G. Huff/arr. Jon Paige

Uses: Advent, Service Music

Scriptures: Isaiah 9:6; Psalm 24:9-10; Isaiah 11:6-9; Isaiah 40:1

The beloved hymn tune TRURO is now retooled for use as an Advent introit. This artful yet utilitarian octavo provides several performance options, including the use of handbells. The original text articulates the Messianic prophecy from Isaiah and can be sung throughout Advent in an accumulation format or as an anthem in its entirety.

APPALACHIAN GRACE

Our Song of Endless Praise

Wes Hannibal/arr. Diane Hannibal/Joel Raney

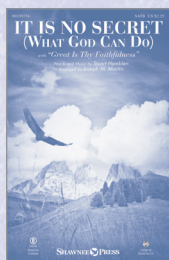

Uses: Thanksgiving, General

Scriptures: John 1:3; Ecclesiastes 3:11; Matthew 6:6; Colossians 1:16-17

A popular early American hymn tune receives a new text celebrating the beauty of creation and a spirit of thanksgiving. An engaging piano groove provides a rustic underpinning to the theme, sounded first in unison and then with two-part choir. The original refrain opens up to an engaging four-part moment that showcases the choir and provides a wonderful shine to this text of praise and worship. Memorable!

IT IS NO SECRET (WHAT GOD CAN DO)

with "Great Is Thy Faithfulness"

Stuart Hamblen/arr. Joseph M. Martin

Uses: Missions, Revival, General

Scriptures: Psalm 77:11; Psalm 145:12

From the opening 12 chimes representing the origins of the classic gospel song, this arrangement is a true inspiration. One of the most recognized sacred pieces of all time, it has been covered by artists such as Elvis Presley, Mahalia Jackson, Wayne Newton, Anne Murray and Johnny Cash. A testimony of God's saving grace, the song was used in Billy Graham crusades and has been sung in thousands of churches. This arrangement joins the piece with a quote from the beloved hymn "Great Is Thy Faithfulness" and the result is outstanding.

TALIA MIRACULA (SUCH WONDERS)

Pamela Stewart/Brad Nix

Uses: Christmas

Scriptures: II Corinthians 4:6; Luke 2:8-14; Psalm 119:130; I John 1:15

From our Psallite Series, we present a sacred tone poem destined to be an important addition to the choral canon. Luxurious in harmonic language, this octavo framed in Latin describes the angel's announcement of Christ's birth to the shepherds. Emerging poetically from stillness and darkness with fragile sound, the piece opens organically as the divine glory of light breaks forth with angelic "Glorias" in luminous chords. Divided voices and evocative watercolor-like dissonances create a substantial sonic stack, a challenge worth taking for choirs of distinction. The cyclical text returns to the opening darkness and silence before ending with peace. Magnificent!

JOHN BEHNKE

JESUS SHALL REIGN

arr. John A. Behnke

Uses: Hymn Arrangement, Christ the King, General

Scriptures: Psalm 72:8-11; Acts 2:30; I Timothy 6:15

Majestic and regal, this concept anthem is highly effective! Combining a beloved hymn with the classic "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" creates a soaring anthem that brings visions of cathedrals and lofty spires. Approachable vocal writing opens up the octavo to choirs of many sizes while craftily ensuring a fulfilling musical impact. Brass and timpani complete the package, making this a quintessential service piece for Christ the King Sunday. Highly recommended!

WHEN CHRIST WAS BORN OF MARY FREE

15th Century English Carol/Daniel Burton

Uses: Christmas

Scriptures: Luke 2:8-20

Pure beauty permeates each measure of this seasonal selection. Supported by a joyful organ accompaniment, the anthem has an "old soul," bringing a rich Christmas spirit to the soundscape of your sanctuary. A memorable theme in minor creates a noble spirit with light counterpoint sprinkled throughout the piece, offering an approachable yet impressive choral impact. A final move to major affirms the joy of the angelic acclamation!

ALL MY HOPE

David Crowder/Ed Cash/arr. David Angerman

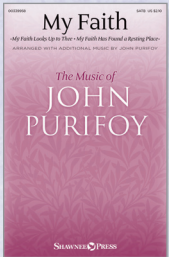

Uses: Lent, Praise Team, General

Scriptures: Jeremiah 29:11; Psalm 9:18; Romans 8:28-29; Philippians 1:6

This confident gospel ballad is instantly engaging! Lilted like a country waltz, the song of hope and promise is a throwback to earlier times and the simple but powerful truths of the Christian walk. Arranged for optimal success, this retro style is perfect for choral adaptation and especially effective when combined with praise bands.

SING WE THE SONG OF EMMANUEL

Keith Getty/arr. Joseph M. Martin

Uses: Christmas, Advent

Scriptures: Matthew 1:23; I Timothy 3:16; Isaiah 9:6

A dream team of writers celebrate “God with us” in this seasonal offering. Owing much stylistically to traditional carols, the piece is almost classical in its festive nature. A shout of proclamation, the incarnation is seen as the fulfillment of God’s promise revealed by the prophets. A small optional solo adds variety while the choral parts are sturdy and easily absorbed, making this an ideal choice for a Christmas time of music and worship.

SET A BONFIRE ON THE HILLTOP

An Advent Processional of Light

Jim Riggs/arr. Stewart Harris

Uses: Advent

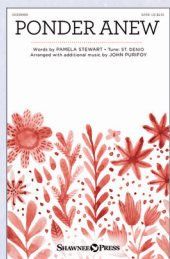

Scriptures: Exodus 19:18; Romans 12:11-13

Reaching out to the listener with music that synthesizes contemporary art music with neo-Renaissance styling, this Advent offering will be an exciting addition to your seasonal programming. Drawing from scripture and sacred tradition, the poetry of the lyric encourages the people of faith to light the way for the coming of the Christ. Two distinct sections offer musical contrast and a plethora of unison and two-part writing makes this an excellent choice for groups of any size. Fresh!

PONDER ANEW

Pamela Stewart/John Purifoy

Uses: Church Heritage, Reformation, General
Scriptures: Psalm 64:9; Psalm 111:4

Innovative harmonies and a well-known hymn tune are the hallmarks of this successful new anthem. The powerful lyric speaks to the divine calling of the church and the work that God has done, is doing, and will continue doing among His people. Variety sounds throughout the anthem with shimmering chords beckoning the listener to “ponder anew” before surrendering to the tune ST. DENIO, with admonitions to praise and share what “marvelous, infinite things God can do!” After an impressive climax, the piece winds down to a reflective ending, returning the piece to its thoughtful beginnings. Highly effective!

THE FOLDED FLAG

Joseph M. Martin

Uses: Memorial, Patriotic

Scriptures: John 15:13

There is no more poignant sight than the solemn ceremony of the folded flag. The dignity associated with honoring one who has given the “last full measure of devotion” is rich with tradition and provides a moment of deep reverence for those in grief. This inspiring anthem presents three moments with the flag as it moves from the hands of grief to soaring and into the hearts of the future. The music has a cinematic scope, following the text with a theme that lifts the message of commitment and devotion to the heavens. An instant classic!

JESUS IS CALLING

Will L. Thompson/Joseph M. Martin

Uses: Lent, Communion, General

Scriptures: Matthew 11:28; II Timothy 1:9; John 7:37

A hymn text that reflects the redemptive heart of God for His people is lovingly set to new music. Using words that have been celebrated even outside the sanctuary, this melodic variation is a compelling new way to present the promise found in the treasured lyric. Set in minor, the melody expresses a depth of emotion that makes the anthem ideal for communion or moments of reflection and repentance. The surprising turn of the theme to major mode paints a powerful sonic picture of salvation and assurance.

VENI EMMANUEL

Jennifer Klein/Patti Drennan

Uses: Advent

Scriptures: Genesis 28:15; Isaiah 7:14; Matthew 1:23

Rolling triplets prepare the entrance of an evocative theme in minor, creating a sense of longing in this “prayer become song.” Simply presented in the voices, the anthem is easy to prepare but offers much expressive potential in its artful textures and melodic contours. Incorporating the tune ST. AMBROSE, the music is beautifully matched with the beckoning nature of the text to create a lovely Advent moment. Precious!

YOU ARE MY PEACE

Joseph M. Martin/David Angerman

Uses: General

Scriptures: I Peter 5:7; Colossians 3:15; Psalm 29:11

Expressive musical phrasing provides an intimate look at our relationship with the Prince of Peace. A heartfelt text, "The deepest peace I've ever known is resting in Your care" weaves its way into the soul with the sacred promise pertaining to the walk of faith. Unison writing provides clarity while fuller and richer harmonic moments produce power and intensity as the text develops. Quieter chords surround the listener as the anthem winds down to a quiescent closure. Moving!

PEPPER CHOPLIN

BY GRACE THROUGH FAITH

Pepper Choplin

Uses: Pentecost, General

Scriptures: Hebrews 4:16; Ephesians 2:8-10; Acts 20:24

Written in a robust neoclassical style, this anthem is a vigorous affirmation of scripture and the confidence that believers have in the grace of Christ. The rhythmic engine that drives this piece also enables quick learning and makes this a unique offering among the usual choral fare. Evenly distributed vocal writing adds a pleasant ambience to the anthem's timbre. The piano both supports the voices and propels the piece to success. Solid!

IT CAME UPON A MIDNIGHT CLEAR

Edmund H. Sears/Heather Sorenson

Uses: Christmas

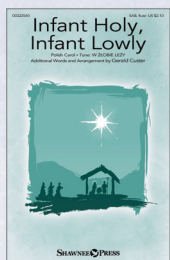

Scriptures: John 14:27; Luke 2:9-14

From the cantata Little Lion, Little Lamb, the contours of this reimagined carol are fashioned with beautiful arching leaps, instantly endearing it to the listener. A good balance of unison and four-part writing expresses the miracle of the incarnation with sensitivity and sincere devotion. The B section offers some theater with distinctive layers of "Gloria" that crescendo with impressive impact. The final angelic proclamation fades into the Christmas sky with delicate and artful sonority. Heavenly!

INFANT HOLY, INFANT LOWLY

Polish Carol/arr. Gerald Custer

Uses: Christmas

Scriptures: Luke 2:1-20

A treasured carol is tastefully adorned with gentle beauty in this luminous arrangement. With respect for the core material, the piece creates a distinctive holiday spirit ideal for sanctuary or concert use. Unlike many SAB voicings, the men's part is not too high, making this a thoughtful choice for ensembles where parts above the staff would tax the vocal resources of the group. A carefully crafted flute obbligato adds magic to the glistening Christmas tableau. An instant classic!

IT IS WELL WITH MY SOUL

arr. Heather Sorenson/Jesse Becker

Uses: Lent, Hymn, General

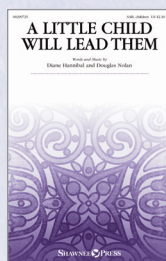

Scriptures: II Kings 4:26; Psalm 46:1-3

A classic hymn of assurance sounds again in this auspicious arrangement. Abounding with the promise of God's presence and provision in our lives, the anthem overflows with dynamic contrast and lofty choral moments. The significant piano part provides support but maintains its own independent beauty. A sweeping orchestration offers options for larger ensembles with instrumental capability, while a version with solo violin lends beauty to more restrained performances.

Heather Sorenson
Uses: General
Scriptures: Psalm 139

Each measure of this inspiring psalm setting is filled with intention and nuance. A new addition to the composer's series featuring anthems inspired by the Psalter, this is a piece of inspired writing. The abundant melodic material closely follows the spiritual context of the message, reaching out with the assurance of God's presence in every aspect of our lives. Many occasions are worthy of this affirmation and the lofty musical elements are concert worthy for choirs of distinction. Moving!

THE SINGER'S PRAYER
A Service Blessing
Rebecca Fair/arr. Douglas Nolan
Uses: Benediction, General
Scriptures: I Thessalonians 5:23; Hebrews 13:20-21

A final prayer for those who offer their song as an offering of praise, this brief piece moves beyond music to encourage hearts and lives in service to the Lord. A simple melody gently bathes the anthem with a sense of innocence and sincerity. Well-balanced unison and four-part writing is supported by a pleasant and effective accompaniment.

ROSEPHANYE POWELL

JESUS, SON OF GOD

Rosephanye Powell

Award-winning composer Rosephanye Powell offers a powerful, soulful anthem, "Jesus, Son of God." Powell opens the anthem with prophetic scriptures from Isaiah 53, and then propels the text forward to Jesus as the triumphant fulfillment of the prophecy: "Jesus, King of kings, Who now reigns!" Beyond the piano accompaniment, there are rhythm charts for a modern band available, as well as an extended full orchestration. This octavo is taken from a larger work, Gospel Trinity.

DOES NOT WISDOM CALL?

Hank Hinnant

Scriptures: Proverbs 8:1-11

As a church musician himself, the choral music of Hank Hinnant is always accessible, inspirational, melodically beautiful, and engaging to those who hear his musical creation. He writes particularly well for high school and adult church choirs. This piece, based on Proverbs 8, is set for divisi mixed chorus with piano and optional oboe. It would work quite well on Christian Education Sunday.
